Core Commitment to Community Schools

Furman leaders and school-community stakeholders have engaged with Madera Unified leaders throughout CCSPP Implementation Round 2 planning and have worked closely with district leaders to align and articulate local and district-wide Community Schools strategies. This work builds on both Madera Unified's and Furman School's existing efforts to align school improvement strategies with the California Community Schools Framework, including with the Four Pillars and Four Cornerstone Commitments of Community Schools. At the school site level, these efforts are highlighted through the work of the School Site Council, English Language Advisory Committee, and Caring Parents and Teachers organization and highlighted in the Furman mission and vision statements as well as throughout the School Accountability Report Card, Single Plan for Student Achievement, and numerous other school policies and publications. At the district level, Madera Unified's commitment to the California Community Schools Framework is demonstrated by prior and current investments and initiatives, including a number of state and federally funded initiatives as well as LCAP Goals, Activities, and Expenditures.

Madera Unified's long-term Community Schools strategic vision is to establish a district-wide network of community schools that provides high-quality and comprehensive academic, social-emotional, youth enrichment, health and wellness, and community engagement services that improve the lives of all students and families across the district's entire 384-mile service area. Madera Unified's 28 schools are organized into three "pyramids" that each contain one comprehensive high school, one middle school, and five to nine elementary schools. Furman Independent Study (Furman) is one of 11 schools within Madera Unified School District's Purple Pyramid, a feeder system of elementary, middle, and high schools that collectively serve 8,270 students. More than 30,000 residents live within the boundaries of Purple Pyramid schools, which include Madera city urban neighborhoods and rural areas to the city's south that are home to some of the most underserved Madera County residents. During the 2021-22 school year, Furman enrolled 533 K-12 students.

Over the past decade, Madera Unified has implemented and braided a number of special projects and initiatives that advance all Four Pillars and Four Cornerstone Commitments of Community Schools. These efforts have included prior and current grant projects funded by the California Department of Education and the U.S. Department of Education, such as an Elementary and Secondary School Counseling Program, School Climate Transformation Program, 21st Century Community Learning Centers Programs, and two prior California Community Schools Partnership Programs. The majority of investments to date (January 2023) have supported Madera Unified in establishing strong community schools within the district's Red Pyramid, and Madera Unified secured a CCSPP Round 1 grant that includes all Red Pyramid schools. Over the next two rounds of CCSPP funding, Madera Unified will continue to build on the district's CCSPP Round 1 Red Pyramid investments and scale its community schools initiative to all Purple Pyramid schools (CCSPP Round 2) and all Blue Pyramid schools (CCSPP Round 3).

All Madera Unified and Furman California Community Schools Partnership Program strategies will build on these existing commitments and efforts to advance the shared district-wide vision for community schools while also addressing school-specific needs related to each of the Four Pillars and Four Cornerstone Commitments of Community Schools and building the individual and collective capacities of Furman and its community partners. Madera Unified has collaborated with Furman to establish the six overarching community schools goals outlined below, and Furman will work to allocate CCSPP and in-kind resources to meet local needs and advance each of these shared district-wide CCSPP goals.

Key Staff and Stakeholder Engagement

Furman’s community schools initiative engages key leaders and stakeholders at both the district and site levels. At the district level, Madera Unified’s Community Schools Leadership Team is spearheaded by the Community Schools Coordinator and Department of Student and Family Support Services, which conducts district- and site-level needs assessments to inform the planning of community schools services. The Community Schools Leadership Team is composed of (1) administrators from each Department of Student and Family Support Services division; (2) administrators, teachers, and staff from Furman School (including personnel specialized in serving special populations); (3) parent leaders; and (5) at least one representative from each major community partner. The Leadership Team is also divided into three Subcommittees that meets more frequently to discuss issues specific to their Subcommittee areas of expertise. These Subcommittees are Community Health Services, Community & Parent Resources, and Extended-Day Programming.

Throughout CCSPP implementation, the Madera Unified Community Schools Leadership Team and Furman School Site Council will continue to meet quarterly to collaboratively review school and community needs assessment data, plan and refine services delivery, and engage in continuous quality improvement. One meeting per year will focus on review of partner roles and ways to effectively leverage and braid partner resources to best meet the needs of Furman students and families and to avoid service duplication.
